

Consumer Health Review Committee

Bradford C. Burkett

Managing Director, Healthcare and Technology

Brad Burkett has over 20 years of experience in mergers, acquisitions and financing transactions as both an operator and as an attorney, specializing in the healthcare and technology industry. Prior to joining Scott-Macon in 2005, Mr. Burkett was President and Chief Executive Officer of deNovis, Inc., a healthcare information technology company. Mr. Burkett has also served as President and Chief Executive Officer of Physician Weblink, a physician/IPA management and e-health company. Prior to joining Physician Weblink, Mr. Burkett was Senior Vice President and General Counsel of Multicare, a publicly traded healthcare company based in New Jersey.

Richard D. Forman

Managing Partner, Health Venture Group

Richard D. Forman is the managing member of Health Venture Group, LLC. He also serves as a board member of the New York Angels, a member led and managed investment group focused primarily on technology-based ventures in the Northeast United States. Previously, Mr. Forman was President and CEO of Register.com, Inc. (NASDAQ-RCOM) through June of 2003. From August 1987 to October 1990, Mr. Forman was a consultant with Booz Alien & Hamilton, Inc., where he helped implement numerous business development and technology strategies.

Christopher McFadden

Managing Director, Goldman Sachs

Chris is a senior equity analyst responsible for the Firm's U.S. healthcare services research coverage. He serves as a member of the Global Investment Research (GIR) Sounding Board. Chris joined Goldman Sachs in 1999 as a vice president in equity research, became a managing director in 2004, and is currently Deputy Business Unit Leader for the US Healthcare Group. Prior to joining the firm, Chris worked as a senior research analyst at Wheat First Securities (today Wachovia Securities) and held marketing and management positions at Xerox Corporation.

Jay Srini

Vice President, Emerging Technologies, University of Pittsburgh Medical Center

Jay Srini is an experienced professional with more than 20 years of hands on operational, technology and executive leadership experience. Her background includes extensive healthcare experience and very strong operational and technical experience encompassing strategic and tactical planning, product design and development, personnel management and organizational startup activities. Jay currently provides strategic direction and input regarding emerging technologies and solutions to UPMC through her current role as Vice President, Emerging Technologies. She was a managing director for E-health initiatives at Internet Venture Works where she led technology and industry assessments of opportunities presented by strategic partners, investors and external sources also served in interim executive management roles for its portfolio companies. She has formed a niche consulting firm Strategic Consulting Solutions focusing on the integration of technology and business operations for established institutions and startup ventures. She serves on the Advocacy Committee of HIMSS and chairs their Legislative Review taskforce in addition to serving on the advisory board of select technology firms in Pittsburgh.